

About

Low cost website solutions based on Joomla - probably the worlds leading Open Source Content Management System.

SiliconDESIGNS is based near Poole in Dorset and builds website solutions using Joomla one of the world's leading Open Source Content Management Systems (CMS). Content Management Systems such as Joomla allows anyone that can use a PC and an Internet browser to easily manage their own website content, from an intuitive Control Panel and Word like WYSIWYG editor. It really can be as easy as 'type .. click .. save'.

Investing in a new website can be an exciting proposition and can lead to increased business and product awareness for many companies. To make the most out of this investment, you need to ensure that your website can be easily updated without relying on highly skilled but costly technical staff.